Course Organization

The course will basically be composed of reading and writing activities. The readings will help the students to expand vocabulary; to introduce students to collaborative work (tasks) and to group dynamics; to reinforce pre-studied grammar topics, and to serve as a link to developing writing skills. They will also supply topics for discussion to be posted in the group discussion board. Selected written exercises will expose students to brief grammar explanations, as well. The exercises will range from more to less structured ones, and resources for further studies on the covered grammar topics will be provided to the students.
